|---|--|
| In simple terms, the practices which add commendable value to an institution and its various stakeholders are the best practices. However, they depend on many variables. These should be kept in mind while identifying the practices. What might be considered as 'best practices' are limited in a number of ways. Firstly, what we consider to be the 'best' educational practice depends on our own limited knowledge, perspectives, contexts, interests and values. The interests and values on which the practices are premised may be contested by others. In that case, many of the assumptions on which the practices are premised will not hold. Secondly, 'best practices' are contingent, context dependent and defy generic description. Thus if these practices are to be useful at all, we need to identify the ones that can be so re-stated as to be clearly seen to contribute to value addition to the institution or the stakeholders. Only then can they become context-free and less subjective. For most institutions of higher education the desire to learn from each other and to share aspects of good practice is almost as old as the institutions themselves. With the emphasis on collegiality, such desires have traditionally manifested themselves in numerous ways: professional associations, both academic and non-academic; meeting to share common interests; and visits by delegations from one higher education system to examine practices in another. The latest in this list is the interest to participate in the assessment activities of the NAAC. Thus improving performance by collaboration or comparison with other HEIs is nothing new in higher education. What is new, however, is the increasing interest in the formalization of such comparisons, and one recent development in this area is that of creating the best practices database. For all these purposes, the present conference has been organized. | In this broad context, the objectives of the conference are: <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. To have an in-depth discussion upon the existing best practices in higher education2. To explore the possibilities of innovative best practices in higher education Whereas, the sub-themes of the conference are: <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. NAAC new revised methodology2. Innovative best practices in higher education3. Role of ICT in NAAC assessment and accreditation process4. D.V.V. AAA & SSS5. Writing Qims and POs, PSOs, & COs The Parent Institute Mahatma Gandhi Vidyamandir, Nashik was established in the year 1952, under the dynamic leadership of Late Hon'ble Karmaveer Bhausaheb Hiray, a committed freedom fighter, an ardent educationalist and Former Minister of Bombay Province. His son Late Hon'ble Loknete Vyankatrao Hiray, a great visionary, took over the responsibility of the institution in 1961. Under his visionary approach, M. G. Vidyamandir started various schools and colleges imparting education from primary level to higher education, and also technical & professional education. Since 1980, Hon'ble Smt. Pushpatai Hiray, Former Minister of Health, Govt. of Maharashtra and Hon'ble Samajshree Prashantada Hiray, Former State Minister of Transport and Protocol, Govt. of Maharashtra have been efficiently managing the institution. Hon'ble Dr. Apoorvabhai Hiray, Former MLC, Maharashtra State has been taking extraneous efforts to enhance the quality of education in the era of competitive globalization. At present, 110 educational institutions ranging from primary level to postgraduate and technical to professional level are operational under his able leadership. |

The devotional motto of the institute is "Bahujan Hitay, Bahujan Sukhay" is to provide the educational facilities to the students coming from all spheres of urban, rural and tribal areas and to empower them to become successful, sensitive and responsible citizens of the Indian Nation
