Venue: Av Room

Event : Workshop on LGBTQ and their reporting in media

Organised by :- Department of Mass Media & Communication Skills

Trainer : Ms Richa Vashisht – A mental health professional specializing in LGBTQ+ issues, associated with Love Matters.

Objective : To enhance the role of the media in sensitising society about LGBTQ+ issues

Report : The workshop cleared many misconceptions about Sex and Gender and busted myths about the community as well.

It was a very interactive session with the students of the department. Ms Richa enthusiastically answered every question and urged everyone to read and make themselves aware about LGBTQ+ and explained the various terms and how one must use one's preferred pronouns and to never assume their Gender or Sexual orientation.

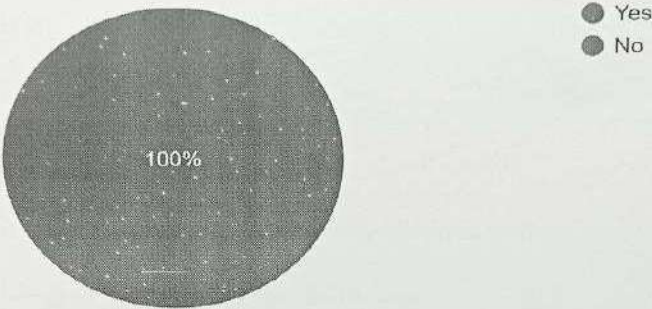

Overall, it was an eye-opener and an extremely informative session that shed light on issues that are still a taboo in our society.

REPORT OF WORKSHOP ON LIFE SKILLS AND APPLICATION

Date: 17th January 2019
Time: 9.30 – 11.30 pm
Venue: College Audi
Speakers: Natasha Mehta
Attended by: SYBMM AND TYBMM (70+)

Objective

This was a planned workshop, taken as instructed by BMM Coordinator Kaplana Menon.

A need was felt to address the emotional and social skills in our young adults. The approach was composite and continued to embed within it concerns of health, livelihood, social and emotional development.

The workshop offered a holistic framework to the student's overall development.

Self-awareness, Empathy, Creative /Critical Thinking, Decision Making and Problem Solving, Effective Communication / Interpersonal Skills, Coping with Emotions and Stress are all skills needed for better quality of living.

These skills are a function of better emotional connection. When people feel connected, they communicate fine, make better decisions, and when they feel disconnected they communicate poorly, regardless of their choice of words and communication techniques

Need for alertness and promptness and honesty developing connections through better inter and intrapersonal skills (Team work) was included in the basic framework for this workshop.

Content

1. Life Wheel
 2. Animal farm
 3. Team Coloring sheet
 4. Notice the change
 5. Emotional quotient
 6. Fish Pond
- Methodology
 - Ice Breaker on Self awareness
 - Group activities – Animal Farm and team work worksheet
 - Partner exercise
 - Interaction on emotional quotient
 - Discussion and active participation
 - Query handling

Summary

The session started with rapport building and Ice breaker. The students participated whole heartedly, and involved themselves in games and activities, an objective of self-growth was observed.

The session started with an ice breaker activity Wheel of Life. They were expected to fill the worksheet and mark their level of satisfaction on the sheet, join the dots and gain an insight.

The Second activity required them to pick chits and form groups. They were instructed to remove certain animal sounds and on basis of the sound attract their tribe. Post that worksheets were provided to the students which helped them gain life lessons and relate to their application in real life. An open interaction and an in depth discussion was done on the same.

An activity on empathy building, observing nonverbal cues and the impact of that on connections was next. Creative thinking was an incidental part of the activity. There was a discussion post the activity.

An exercise on types of emotions and handling them gave plenty of opportunities to improve emotional vocabulary, understand how to use emotional charge to our benefit and where to draw a line. This activity helped students gain a better understanding on being in control of their emotions, acceptance and response to them.

Resistance

No major resistance was faced. However students were hungry and a break of 10 minutes was given to them in between the workshop.

Outcome

The session was well planned, successful and well appreciated. The topic was successfully imparted along with handy tips to be used. Overall, the session reached its objective as students were appreciative of it and have demanded workshop like these in coming near future. A written feedback was collected.
