REPORT

“Inter-Generational Bonding”

One Day Sensitization Programme

The event was held on 30th January, 2018 at 11 am organized by National Institute of Social Defence (NISD), Centre for the Study of Social Change (CSSC)'s and Regional Resource Training Centre (RRTC) in association with S.M Shetty College and partnering with Bharat Vikas Parishad, Powai Chandivali Branch and HelpAge India.

The Chief Guests for the event were Adv.Nirmala Samant Prabhavalkar-Chief Functionary of Regional Resource Training Centre, Mrs.Neelam Potdar- IT Expert, Mr.Prakash N. Borgaonkar(The key note speaker)-Director of HelpAge India NGO(Western Region). Total 137 students have attended this programme.

The event started with Principal Sir's inspiring speech. He quoted that “As three-generational homes have become less common over the years and older people live by themselves, inter-generational common spaces is gaining more importance”. He also shared his personal experience of his early age and the difference today, saying that families are busier than ever these days. Spending quality time together with senior loved ones is quite challenging. Recent social and cultural trends, particularly in more developed economies, have led to a decrease in connectivity and interactions between members of communities.

Key note speaker Mr.Prakash N. Borgaonkar said that Grandparents will be important resources of knowledge. Bringing together generations to understand each other is very important to develop and broaden the societal aspects, where both young and old can live together with some appreciation of each other's needs and aspirations. He also made students aware of various programs that have been running and in what way they could also be part of these programs and contribute to it. The students then shared their experience about their bonding with their parents and grandparents.

The event ended with the vote of thanks by Mr.Harikrishnan Pillai-General Secretary of the college.
