

B.Sc. (Information Technology): Programme Outcome

On completion of the B.Sc. (Information Technology) students are able to:

- Serve as Programmer or Software Engineer with sound knowledge of practical and theoretical concepts for developing software's.
- Serve as Computer Engineer with enhanced knowledge of computers and its building blocks.
- Work as System Engineer and System integrator
- Serve as System Administrator with thorough knowledge of DBMS.
- Give Technical Support for various systems.
- Work as Support Engineer and Technical Writer
- Work as Consultant and Management officers for system management.
- Work as IT Sales and Marketing person.
- Serve as IT Officer in Banks and other Financial Institutions.
- Serve as Web Designer with latest web development technologies.